

ABSTRACT

Fibrous monolith processing techniques to fabricate multifunctional structures capable of performing more than one discrete function such as structures capable of bearing structural loads
5 and mechanical stresses in service and also capable of performing at least one additional non-structural function.

1005085-120401
T04021" 58050001